New Commemorative Trade Token Guides Available

The Handbook of United States Trade Currency, Fifth Edition and The CTD Pocket Guide Canadian Trade Dollars, 1992 Edition, both by Jean-Guy Cote, have just been released. The tokens are listed by municipality, with descriptions, composition, size, valuation included in the contents. For information and prices, write to: Micro - Art, Suite 207, P.O. Box 2213, Station-P, Toronto, Ont., Canada M5S-2T7. Submitted by Bob Gardner.

HELP! Member Bob Schopp is seeking information about the following token; A.R.E.M.T.K. /Roebing/N.J.

Reverse - "2", with an ornament above and below. Brass, 20mm.

Although not a maverick, the initials are a puzzle. Bob thinks it might be a ethnic society of some sort, possibly Hungarian. Contact Bob or the Editor if you can identify this token.

DEADLINE FOR NEXT ISSUE - March 15

From the Vice President's desk...

As I write this, Thanksgiving has passed and I believe all of us had something to be grateful for. As an organization we can be thankful for an executive board that works together, a supportive and strong membership, and a healthy bank account to carry our activities.

But, as you know, we have been operating for months without a President, who is the true leader of any structured organization. In my view this is unconscionable, and no member has stepped forward to serve his/her organization in that capacity.

After reading through the society's constitution and bylaws, and after discussion with the other officers, I've decided to serve as president, if the membership will have me. On January 15 I will begin my term, so if there is any discussion on the matter contact one of the executive board members as soon as possible.

In an ongoing effort to recruit workers for our organization, we've appointed an old friend to the board. Life member R.K. Burke has returned to the area and accepted the position of Vice President. In addition, Steve Middleton has agreed to serve a newly-created position, that of publicity chairman. R. K. and Steve join treasurer Dennis Helmer, editor and past-President Al Zaika and myself, also serving as secretary.

We still need a member to take over the secretarial duties, so won't someone step forward to share our work load? The more hands the lighter the load, and finer results.

May all of you have a wonderful holiday season, and best wishes for the coming year.

Respectfully,

George Skic

on Profit Status: Last year we filed the necessary forms for non profit status for NJES. Our application was approved and we now are classed as a non profit, tax exempt organization. This exempts NJES from paying any federal or state taxes and filing any tax returns. In addition, we can apply for a lower mailing rate for Jerseyana should our mailing reach 200 copies in the future.

making of New Years resolutions, add this one to your list; Resolve to sign up a member for NJES. Applications are available from any of our officers. Spread word and help us grow.

NEWLY DISCOVERED ATLANTIC CITY GAMING TOKEN

A previously unknown gaming token from the former Golden Nugget Casino and Hotel of Atlantic City has recently been discovered. The $5000 denomination token has a heavy gold plating, with the bag of nuggets in the logo, coated with black enamel. The token has a proof-like finish, measures 40mm in diameter and 4mm thick. Specific gravity tests have yet to be made to determine the inner core metal composition. There is no mint mark to identify the maker.

The obverse legend reads; Golden Nugget, Valid For Use Only At $5000, Golden Nugget Atlantic City. The reverse reads; Not Legal Tender, Golden Nugget, $5000. The words Nugget are inscribed completely around the edge of the token, right side up, then upside down, with a space where the serial number is shown. All the edge lettering and numbers are incused.

This former casino and hotel was located on Boston Avenue and the Boardwalk. It opened on December 9, 1980 and was the sixth casino in Atlantic City. The Golden Nugget was sold in March, 1987 and is now Bally's Grand.

Anyone interested in the specialty of collecting gaming tokens and chips, can contact! Casino Chips and Gaming Tokens Collectors Club, P.O. Box 63, Brick, New Jersey 08723

Letter received from Bob Slawsky;

I just read the article by Dave Gladfelter in issue 61 of JERSEYana. It immediately peaked my curiosity since I have a Shreve copper token as near to B.U. as I have ever seen. Sure enough, on close inspection under a 3X glass, I saw "HAL" on the reverse, near the edge of the token. After straining my eye for a while I was not able to see any other letters except for a very faint "Y" across from the "HAL". My guess is that all of the Shreve copper tokens are likely to be Half Penny overstrikes. It's a shame that many of us, myself included, seem to acquire items for our collections but never fully investigate them, even to the extent of simply taking a close look. My hat is off to David for his interest beyond acquiring tokens.

A Baby Boy?
HOW WONDERFUL!

Congratulations and best wishes to George and Esther Skic, upon the birth of their new son Matthew, who weighed ten pounds, one ounce at birth. May good health and fortune stay with Matthew, on his progress through life.

ANNUAL NJES MEETING

Our annual meeting will be held at the GSNA convention, Hyatt Hotel, Rte. 70, Cherry Hill, N.J., on Saturday, June 27, 1992. Time and room location will be posted and announced at the convention.

The following activities are slated; a speaker, door prizes, 50-50 drawing, auction of donated items and a short business meeting. 50-50 tickets are $1.00 each and you'll find one enclosed. Please sign one half and mail it along with payment to Sec. George Skic. If attending the meeting, you can turn in your ticket and payment at the meeting. Extra tickets are available from George or Al Zaika. If you have duplicate or unwanted exonumia, mail it to Al Zaika or bring it to the meeting.

from the President's desk...

As the membership renewal period draws to a close, our organization stands on solid ground. With close to $3000.- in accounts and having past the three-hundred mark in member number, we're looking healthy again!

Speaking of members, Jim Boswell, of Gambrills, Maryland, became our thirty-fourth life member. I'm proud to say that our membership roster carries names from as far away as Nebraska, Maine, Washington, California, Florida, Iowa and Illinois. Glad to have all of you, but we might have to change the name to American Exonumia Society. Just kidding.

Our next general membership meeting, held in the usual place in Cherry Hill, will meet on Saturday, June 27, 1992. Look for time and place details on the convention billboard. Bring your show-and-tell items to share with the other members.

Thanks go to R.K. Burke for agreeing to take responsibility for the society's archives. In addition to vice-president, we'll call R.K. "historian". See him if you have anything at all to offer for our records.

Thanks also go to the other board members, especially Al Zaika, for keeping the ball rolling and for publishing a nice quarterly newsletter.

Best Regards to all,

George

CENTENNIAL, (SOUVENIR), GOOD FOR TOKENS OF NEW JERSEY

By, Bob Gardner, 132 E. Carmens Road, E. Farmingdale, NY 11735

These are the centennial and anniversary, (souvenir), good for tokens that I am aware of for New Jersey. I have only been able to find the tokens on this list, but I'm told that Pitman also issued a 5 and 50 cent, plastic token. If anyone can substantiate this, I would appreciate hearing from them. Apparently, only five N.J. communities issued this type of token. Pennsylvania has these tokens from 94 towns and in some instances, tokens were issued in several different metals. For example, Plymouth, Pa. issued a brass, nickel-silver and aluminum token. 51 towns in the State of New York have also issued this type of token. Some issues do not show an exact value, but state, "Anniversary Coin, Centennial Coin or Souvenir Coin", and were accepted in trade in the issuing town. This type is listed from other states, but to date, I have not found a similar token from New Jersey.

Known New Jersey issues:

Runellen, 1962, 50¢, brass.

Pitman, 1955, 10¢, red plastic.

" " 25¢, black plastic.

Point Pleasant Beach, 1961, 50¢, brass.

Pineland, 1961, 50¢, brass.

West Orange, 1962, 50¢, brass.

The only known publication that lists this type of token is "The Handbook of U.S. Municipal Trade Currency", by Jean-Guy Cote, of Toronto, Canada. Steve Tureen, of La Quinta, Ca. is long overdue with his book, "Souvenir and Commemorative Tokens of The United States".

ADDENDUM TO THE ALFRED R. SHREVE TOKEN COMMENTS

By Al Zaika

The article by David Gladfelter and comments from Bob Slawsky concerning the Streve token, motivated me to check the specimen in my collection. After a close examination with a glass, I found that my token is overstruck on a French, Napoleon I, 5 Centimes, bronze coin. Napoleon III and the letters EM of the word Empereur are faintly visible around the border of the token reverse, but no traces of the French coin are visible on the token obverse. In view of this latest discovery, it's probable that the Streve token was also overstruck on other foreign coins. If you own one of these tokens, I urge you to examine it closely and if you find an overstrike other than the Half Penny and French 5 Centimes specimens, please send me the details.

NEW JERSEY TRIVIA: The carousel from Irvingtons Olympic Park, (closed-1965), was purchased by Walt Disney Enterprises, restored and is now in operation at Disney World in Florida.

1992 ANNUAL NJES MEETING REPORT

The meeting was conducted by Vice Pres. Burke, in the absense of Pres. Skic, who was not able to attend. A total of 18 members and visitors attended.

The treasurers report was presented by Treas. Dennis Helmer and is printed in this issue.

The Literary Award Committee Chairman reported Al Zaika as the winner of the 1991 Literary Award for his article, "Bridgeton's Liberty Bell".

Member Mark Auerbach gave an entertaining talk on the exonumia of Clifton and Passaic, N.J. and passed out various items for viewing by the audience.

The winner of the 50-50 drawing was Gary Patterson, who was not present, so his winnings will be mailed to him.

Due to a snafu in the time allotted us for the meeting, the auction of donated items was cancelled, but most of the items were sold on an offer basis, resulting in $19.00 being taken in.

→ DEADLINE FOR NEXT ISSUE- Sept. 15 ←

OUR THANKS AND APPRECIATION TO THE FOLLOWING MEMBERS

Literary Award Judges: Jim Boswell, Rodger Hershey and Robert Maisch.
 Auction sale donars: Steve Middleton, Dennis Helmer, Dave Wilson and Al Zaika.
 Speaker at our meeting: Mark Auerbach.
 All those who participated in the 50-50 drawing and who attended our meeting.
 If we missed anyone, please pardon the oversight.

Exonumia From Your Neighborhood

Some Interesting Burlington County Items

By, David D. Gladfelter

This article is really about exonumia from my neighborhood, since Burlington County is my home county. In the future we will try to give some coverage to other New Jersey area items.

Bordentown:

In the July, 1989 issue of "Jerseyana", we showed an unlisted Civil War, merchant scrip note from Bordentown, issued by Samuel E. Burr. Burr was an agent for Richardson & Burr, dealers in general merchandise, who opened their store in 1859. The store continued in operation by the Burr family until 1926 at "Burr's Corner", at Main, (now Farnsworth) and Crosswicks Street. A drawing of the store as it appeared at the turn of the century, is shown below, on the right side of the drawing. The building housing the store no longer stands.

BORDENTOWN AT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY

Shown above is the scrip note of C. Leach, of Bordentown, dated January 1st, 1863. This particular merchant is unlisted in Wait, but the note, in its unissued form is listed as Wait 115. This example shows the value, 25 in red at the left end (cut off in the Wait illustration). This is a stock note, of the type sold by stationers. It was also issued by John Williams & Bro.

White Hill:

Wait lists a 10 Cent scrip note, dated Nov. 25, 1862, issued by William Cline of White Hill, N.J. Illustrated above is a 5Cent note issued by Cline on the same date. Both notes have the printers imprint of the Bordentown Register, a weekly newspaper that is still being published. During the hard money crunch, early in the Civil War, newspapers printed up scrip forms for use by local merchants in making change, and passed out samples such as Wait 432. As historian Henry Bisbee tells us, White Hill is the 19th Century name of present day Fieldsboro, a small municipality on the Delaware River, entirely surrounded by Bordentown. Its name lives on in the White Hill Mansion, a small restaurant operating in an elegant, old river front house.

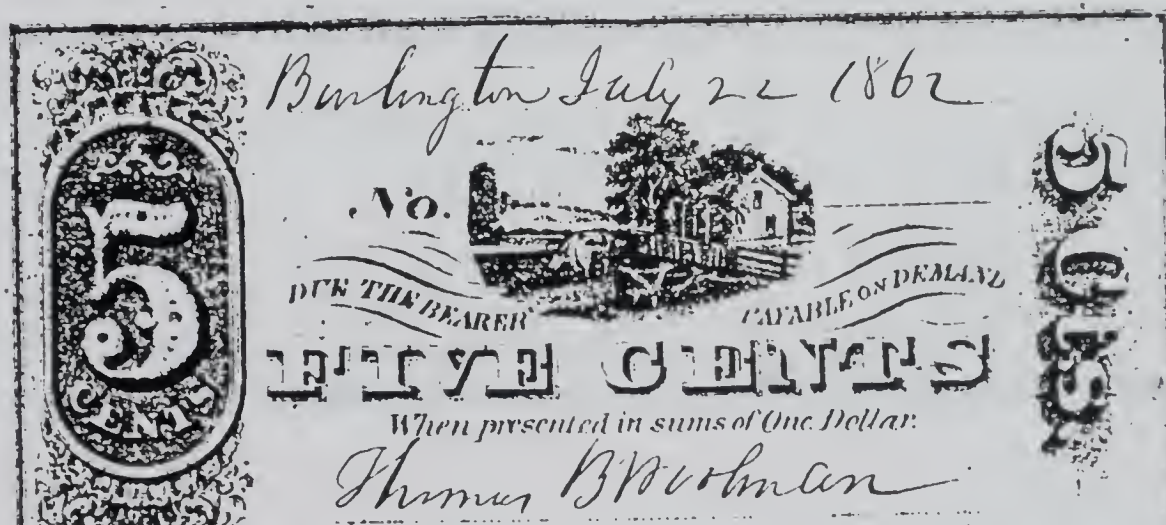

Roebbling:

The Charles G. Roebbling Inn, whose token Al Zaika wrote about in the July, 1989 issue, has been rescued from decay. It was purchased by Florence Township and is now being rebuilt for use as affordable housing for the elderly and as a seniors community center. Its historic character will be preserved as a focal point of the historic village of Roebbling.

Burlington:

Obv. Masonic Home of New Jersey/Burlington, N.J., around rim, view of home in center and Dedicated June 24/1898 below.

Rev. Official Medal Commemorating The Dedication Of The Masonic Home/ altar and Masonic devices in center/ Wm. Thegen, Phila. signature. Bronze, round, 39mm. This high relief medal, unlisted by Francis, is of interest to Masonic, as well as New Jersey collectors. Some years ago, ANA challenged anyone to put together a collection of exnumia consisting of a piece for each of the 365 days of the year. This medal would fill the hole for the 176th day in such a set.

Also from Burlington are two unlisted, Civil War era, scrip notes.. The note above, type of Wait 286, was issued by Thomas B. Woolman and is dated July 22, 1862. This note has the same date and value as a completely different, unlisted note of Woolman, described in the July, 1989 issue of Jerseyana.

The other note, (illustrated on the next page) is an unissued, "stationer" type note, similar to those of several other Burlington merchant issues, but with a previously unknown 75 Cent denomination.

Editors Comment

Please mail all articles, free and paid ads to me. Some members have been mailing such items to our treasurer, causing delay and added postage cost in forwarding such mail to me.

My apologies for the lateness of this issue of Jerseyana. I'm having problems with cataracts and may not be able to continue as editor. If able, I'll try to put out the next two issues, but will not stay on after June of 1993.

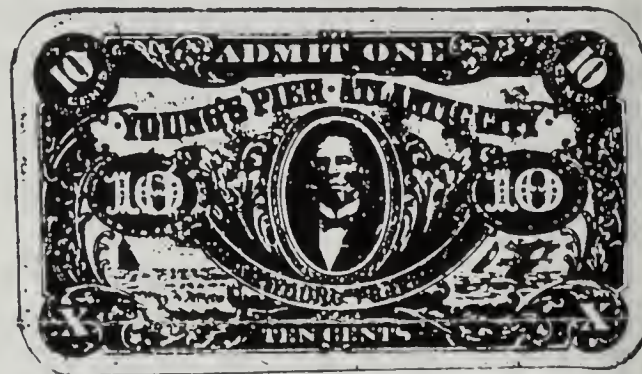

Next Deadline Date : Dec. 15, 1992.

Interesting "Go Withs", are the post cards from token and medal issuers such as the Young's Pier cards shown below, along with the Young's Pier, celluloid tickets. The "Flip Flap" Railway card is dated 1905, proving that the current thrill rides are not a new phenomena. (Cards and tickets are reduced in size).

Both sides of these tickets are the same.

Burlington County Items, by David D. Gladfelter; (continued from last issue).

Batsto:

Wait lists several denominations of notes issued by the Batsto Glass Works in 1868. The note shown here is an earlier issue, in the same series as the 25¢ note listed in Wait's appendix. The listed note is illustrated in Henry Charlto Beck's book, Forgotten Towns of Southern New Jersey, is signed by Jesse Richards, dated 1862 over the printed date 185__, and the printed words, "In Goods At Our Store" have been crossed out and "In United States Notes" substituted. This 50¢ note is unsigned. A 10¢ note has also been seen. Batsto, in the Pine Barrens of southern Burlington County, is now owned by the State of New Jersey and has been preserved as a historic village.

Continued overleaf.

Burlington County continued:Vincenttown:

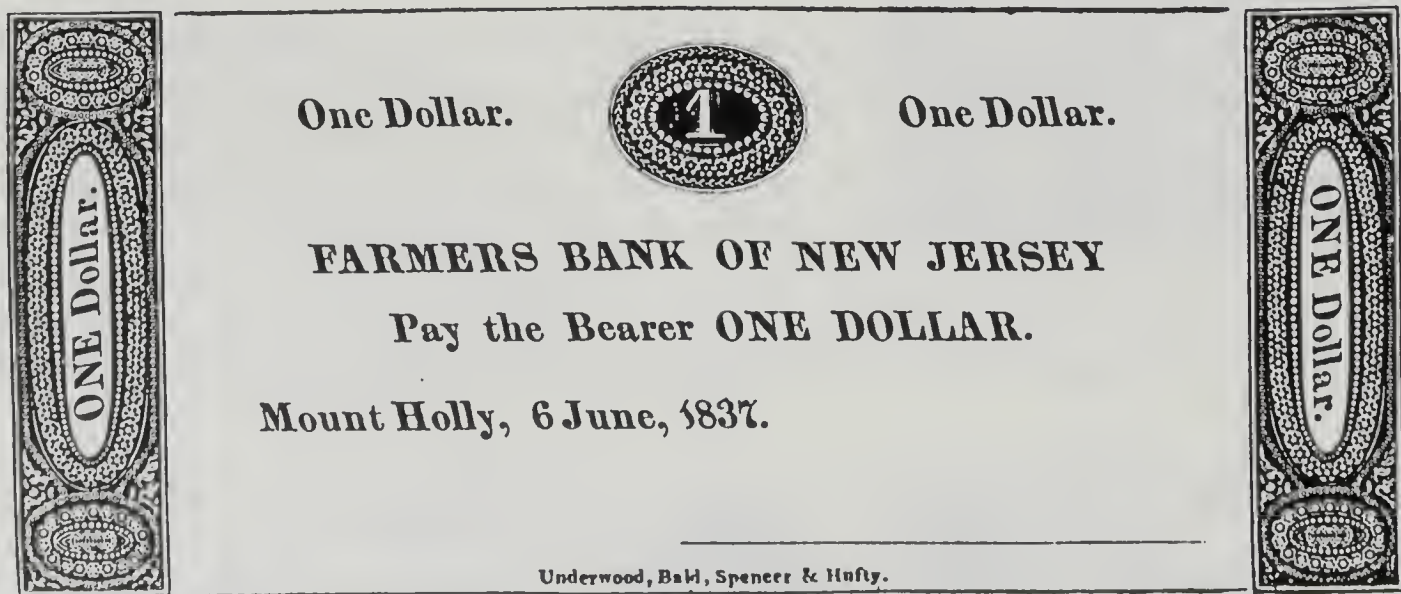

The Wait catalog does not list any notes from Vincenttown, (now spelled with a single "t"). The note shown below was not signed by the issuer. The cow design is quite appropriate for this old-time farming community.

We conclude this article with the following 19th Century notes, all unlisted in Wait.

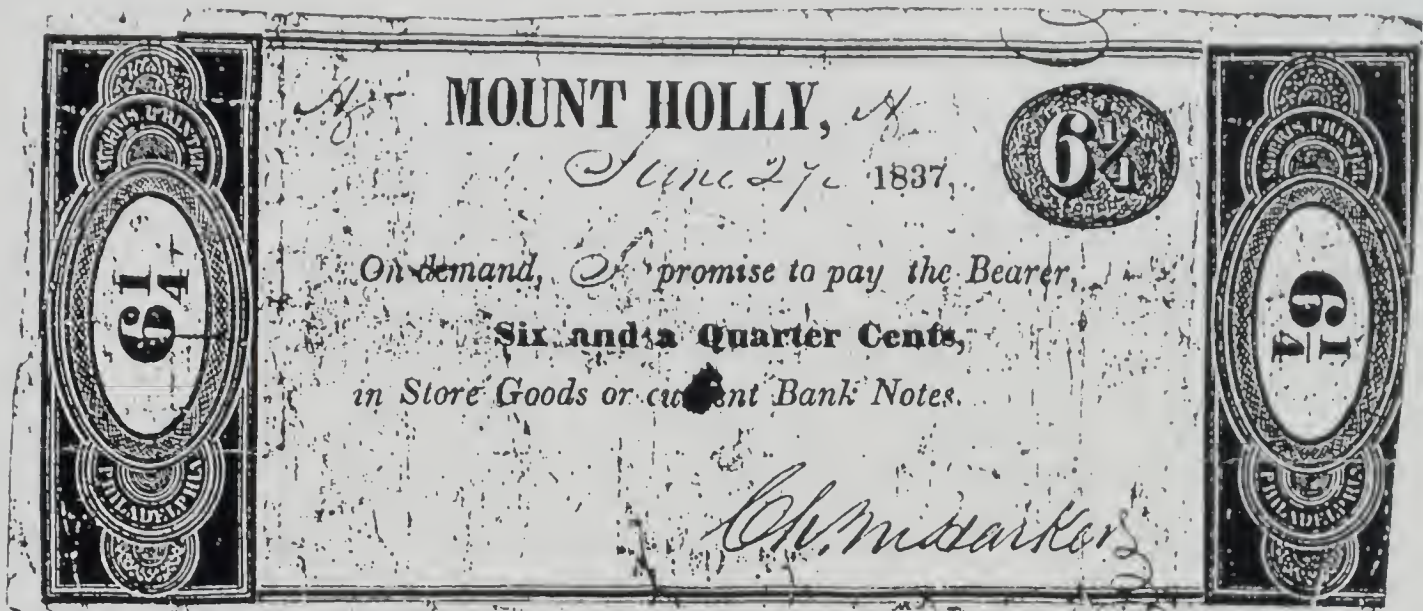

Mount Holly:

Burlington County's first bank, the Farmers Bank of New Jersey, opened here in 1815. The note shown, came from a sheet of six that was in the American Bank Note Co. archives auction by Christie's in 1990. It has a very plain, scrip-like design with only one signature line; most bank notes of this period were signed by both the President and Cashier. This note is unissued and may be a rejected assay.

Last is the 6-1/4 Cents note of Ch. M. Harker, printed by Morris of Philadelphia. The Value is derived from the Spanish dollar or "piece of eight" reales: 6-1/4 cents would be equivalent to a half real. While the issuer is unknown, the endorsement on the reverse suggests that this note may have circulated as late as the 1860's. William E. Corey, the endorser, ran a so-called "center of whoopee", known as Hunter's Lodge, near Browns Mills. He may have accepted the Harker note from one of the lodge's patrons. For the story of Hunter's Lodge, see H. C. Beck's book, "More Forgotten Towns of Southern New Jersey," published by the Rutgers University Press.

MERCHANT TOKENS OF HARD RUBBER AND SIMILAR COMPOSITIONS

by David E. Schenkman

Book Review by Curtis H. Judge

A new catalog has recently been published by noted exonumia author David E. Schenkman. This is the latest in a long list of top quality reference works for the token hobbyist. It deals with tokens only manufactured from hard rubber and similar non-metallic compositions such as celluloid and fibre, and a few rare carbon pieces. It is the third attempt at cataloging this type of token after works by J. M. Tilton in 1884 and The Fulds in 1954. Modern plastic and fibre tokens are excluded from the scope of work.

Hard rubber tokens are made from the raw crude rubber taken from the rubber trees of Central and South America. The rubber is first cleaned of impurities and then rolled into sheets using a small amount of sulfur. The rubber was then "vulcanized" or cured. The sheets were immersed in vats of liquid sulfur & magnesia or lime at a temperature of approximately 120 degrees centigrade. This bath caused them to absorb 1/10 of their weight in chemicals. After removal the sheets were heated at 260-275 degrees for various times to complete the hardening process. The tokens were then struck using multiple dies in pre-heated presses. The hard rubber tokens were used from approximately 1863 to the late 1880's when the raw product became too expensive to use when compared to other products. Small numbers were struck as late as 1910, but had been largely replaced by aluminum and other metals.

Schenkman's catalog is typical of others in its method of listing. It is organized by state, city, and individual merchant or issuer within the city. Each token is given its own identification number. It is also given a complete description including obverse and reverse wording, size in MM, composition, and historical data if known. Numerous photographs of the items listed are included.

Several areas of interest are also discussed in the introduction and initial chapters. Methods of manufacture, compositions and colors, shapes and sizes, and a section on token manufacturers are included. A section on current market valuation is also included, which should cause some discussion among collectors of this type of token.

The work is hard bound in the 8 1/2 by 11 inch format. Quality of the materials used is quite good and the photographs are above average for this type project. Copies can be purchased for $49.50 + $2.25 shipping from Jade House Publications P.O. Box 265 Bryantown, Md. 20617. Autographed copies are available.
